

THE JUBILEE BEGUN
ACROSS THE SEA

CELEBRATION AT LONDON HAS COMMENCED.

Services at All the Principal Places of Worship Held Sunday—Vast Crowds Present at the Various Gatherings—Emperor Wm. Fears—Uncle Sam's Action.

London, June 21.—Solemn services of praise and thanksgiving ushered in the jubilee celebration of Queen Victoria Sunday. The queen, as was befitting her entire career, began the celebration before the altar of her faith. Throughout London, the United Kingdom and the empire, in every cathedral, church or chapel of the Established Church of England, were held services similar to those at St. George's chapel, Windsor, where her majesty paid her devotions and offered solemn thanks to God.

There were two services at St. Paul's Cathedral, one at 11 o'clock in the morning and the other four hours later. Immense crowds filled all the approaches to the cathedral, anxious to catch a glimpse of the royalties and distinguished personages who were announced, including all the Potestant envoys.

The national paean of praise and thanksgiving found official expression at Westminster Abbey and at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

The members of the house of commons, who, in accordance with a special resolution adopted last Thursday, attended the services at St. Margaret's, assembled in the house at 10:30 o'clock.

High mass at the Brompton Oratory was made the occasion of a thanksgiving for the queen's jubilee on the part of her Roman Catholic subjects, a special Te Deum being sung.

Several of the leading pupils of the city were occupied by American preachers, all of whom alluded in the most feeling terms to the queen's life and character.

WHAT WILLIAM FEARS.

Possible Intervention of the United States in European Affairs.

Athens, June 21.—It is reported here that Emperor William has sent a telegram to the sultan requesting him to take measures for the speedy evacuation of Thessaly. There is no indication that a settlement has been reached in the peace negotiations.

London, June 21.—The Paris correspondent of the Times reports a conversation purporting to represent the views of Emperor William, in the course of which, speaking of his anxiety as to the future of Europe, he says that he does not fear Chinese ambition or the anarchists. But he does fear the expansion of one of the great powers and the intervention of the United States in the affairs of the old world.

Hanna On the Hawaiian Treaty.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 21.—When asked what he thought of the prospects of the ratification of the Hawaiian treaty Senator Hanna said: "The sentiment in the senate is overwhelmingly in favor of the treaty, but its discussion at this session is doubtful, owing to the fact that there is a disposition on the part of congress to adjourn when the tariff measure is adopted. There will probably be some opposition to the treaty that would prolong the session if it were taken up, and so I consider it unlikely."

Five Children Terribly Burned.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 21.—Fire Saturday night damaged the home of Joseph Melenski, in East Buffalo, and his five children were fearfully burned. Sophie, aged 10, died in a hospital this morning. Mary, aged 12; Brownislaw, 5 years old; Veronica, 3 years old, and Cecilia, aged 8, are lying in cots at the hospital, and the attending physicians say there is little chance of their recovery. Melenski is also in the hospital. His arms and face were burned in the attempt to save his children.

HE NOW SUES FOR DIVIDENDS

Extraordinary Procedure in the Great Mosher Bank Case.

Lincoln, Neb., June 21.—Seventy-five Illinois citizens of means, scattered over the state from Chicago to East St. Louis, many of whom reside at Peoria and Galesburg, have been made defendants in what is likely to prove the most sensational national bank litigation ever instituted in the west. It is another chapter in the case in which Charles Mosher, president of the defunct Capital national bank of this city, figured. It was alleged that he stole more than $1,000,000 and he served five years in the penitentiary. His bank closed in 1891. Ten years prior to that time the Capital national had been paying large dividends, amounting in the aggregate to $500,000. The stockholders were mostly Illinois people. Receiver Hayden has brought suit against the stockholders to force them to return the dividends paid by Mosher, on the ground that they were not earned, but were paid out of the money of the depositors. He says that the books show that the bank never made a dollar. It is alleged that Mosher paid big dividends to help his other schemes which contemplated borrowing heavily from Illinois investors.

Glass Factory Destroyed.

Muncie, Ind., June 21.—Late Saturday night the big windowglass factory at Orestes, twenty miles west of here, was burned. It was one of three factories owned by the United Glass Company, and employed over 300 men. The other factories are at Ottawa and Streator, Ill.

Verdi Not Seriously Ill.

DAMAGE IS DONE
BY EARTHQUAKE

SEISMIC SHOCKS CREATE PANIC IN CALIFORNIA.

Heavy Damage Done in San Francisco and Other Cities of the Golden State—People Fear a Recurrence of the Trouble, and Great Anxiety Is Felt.

San Francisco, June 21.—People in this city and state were badly scared Sunday by an earthquake. The results in San Francisco were not serious, but other towns unfortunately did not fare so well.

Hollister, in San Benito county, appears at present to have been the greatest sufferer. The shock there was the most severe since the awful disturbance in 1868, and the alarm of the people was intense. It is certain that their fears were well grounded, for the solid earth seemed to rise in billows under their feet like the waves of the ocean. It is very remarkable that no one was killed, for almost every building in the town suffered damage. The courthouse has been entirely denuded of plastering and ceiling, and hardly a pane of glass remains intact throughout the city.

While the people were in the streets anxiously awaiting a recurrence of the shocks, the most serious accident occurred. The fire wall of the McMahon House, one of the principal hotels in the town, fell with a resounding crash upon adjacent buildings. With cries of terror the people ran in every direction, but fortunately all escaped injuries. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

Gilroy, in Santa Clara county, also felt severely the effect of the tremors of the earth. While the shocks there lasted but a few seconds the damage is heavy.

The shocks in this city, two in quick succession, were sharp and alarming, and resulted in a rush of people from their homes and from the sidewalks to the middle of the streets. The first shock occurred exactly at 12:14:04 o'clock, as timed by the United States weather bureau. The other followed almost instantaneously. The vibrations were from west to east and were the most severe experienced here for many years.

A feeling of anxiety prevails lest there should be a recurrence of the disturbances. People are inclined to the belief that there is some connection between the alarming shocks of today and the recent terrible upheavals in British India.

Land Harry Wright.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 21.—The monument erected to the memory of Harry Wright, the "father of baseball," was unveiled in West Laurel Hill cemetery Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. The ceremonies were simple and brief. The orator of the day was Col. John I. Rogers, who eloquently extolled the noble life and character of the famous manager and player. The statue was erected under the direction of the Harry Wright Memorial association of this city and from the proceeds of games played throughout the country on April 13, 1896. The monument is a bronze figure of Mr. Wright in everyday dress, with his hat in the left hand, while the right hand grasps a pair of eyeglasses.

Aims at the Civil Service.

Valparaiso, Ind., June 21.—Congressman Crumpacker arrived home Sunday. He said that on his return to Washington he would introduce a bill repealing the civil-service law, which will apply only to persons who hold positions paying $900 a year or under. The bill will become a law, he says, as the Republican members of the house are unanimously for it. Mr. Crumpacker added that congress will adjourn about July 15 unless the currency commission is brought forward, and then it may be in session until October. He believes that the house will take up the Cuban question before adjournment, and if the president does not take some action that the Morgan resolution will be passed.

Railroad Men at Saginaw.

Saginaw, Mich., June 21.—There was a notable gathering of railroad men at Masonic temple Sunday afternoon, embracing the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen, and Railroad Trainmen and also the Order of Railway Conductors, large delegations being present from Detroit, Toledo, Grand Rapids, Port Huron, Jackson, Ionia, Alpena, and many other points. Conductor Robert Loughlin of Mount Pleasant presided and stated the object of the gathering to be the bringing about of a better acquaintance and also to show what had been accomplished by the organizations mentioned.

Kansas Women Raid a Saloon.

Topeka, Kan., June 21.—At Jamestown, Cloud county, Friday night, a band of women armed with hatchets, hammers, and axes marched to Miller's saloon and smashed the building and furniture into pieces. Two months ago the women elected a complete ticket of women in Jamestown and pledged the people to rid the town of gambling and to drive out a saloon that had been run by F. J. Miller. Failing to accomplish this by peaceful means, the raid was made and notice served on Miller to leave town. Eight kegs of beer and 25 gallons of whisky were poured into the street.

WORK OF CONGRESS IS NOW LAID OUT

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK.

Tariff Bill Will Take Up the Tims of the Senate—Managers of the Bill Defeated by the Opposition at Saturday's Session—Other Capital News.

Washington, June 21.—The Republican senators in charge of the tariff bill begin to feel that the end is almost in sight. They do not hope to conclude consideration of the bill by the close of the present week, but they expect by that time to be able to say when they can complete the work. As a matter of fact, the difficulty of adjusting differences in their own party is causing the managers more perplexity at present than is the open opposition to the bill in the senate. The wool schedule confronted the senate Monday and it is Senator Allison's purpose to press the schedule forward to a close. It is expected that if the committee should not be able to announce a determination by tonight the matter will be referred to an early caucus, or a caucus may be called if the committee fixes a rate that is not satisfactory to the wool men. The wool schedule will give rise to an animated debate, but the Democratic senators say there is no disposition on their part to needlessly prolong it.

The finance committee was defeated on four important paragraphs Saturday in the tariff bill. These were the paragraphs relating to floor matting, plain jute fabrics, burlaps and cotton bagging. The Democrats were enabled to carry their points against these paragraphs by the assistance of the silver Republicans and Populists and by the help of Carter and Hansbrough, straight Republicans, on the paragraph relating to matting. The result created a slight stir in the chamber, as it was the first substantial triumph of the opposition to the tariff bill. The effect is to restore floor matting manufactured from straw and other vegetable substance to the free list. These include the Japanese, Chinese and Indian mattings.

MAKE ALLIANCE FOR PEACE

Washington Writer for a London Paper Repeats His Assertion.

London, June 21.—The Washington correspondent of the Daily Chronicle reiterates his previous statement as to the alleged instructions given by President McKinley to General Stewart L. Woodford, minister of the United States to Spain, and adds:

"Spain will be permitted to exercise merely a titular sovereignty over Cuba. She will be compelled to withdraw her troops and to permit the Cubans to make their own laws, to raise their own revenue, and to control their own expenditures. President McKinley believes that Cuba must ultimately be annexed to the United States. The withdrawal of the Spanish troops will lead to a repetition of the Hawaiian incident."

Tornado Hits a Little Child.

Duncan, Neb., June 21.—Early Sunday morning a tornado struck the northwest of Duncan. All his buildings, including a store and a half house, stable, windmill and granary full of grain, were completely demolished. Mrs. Eisenmann was badly injured about the face, and a little child was found a quarter of a mile north on an old straw pile, slightly injured. Parts of the building were found over a mile away. The path of the storm was very narrow at this point, and extended northward toward Monroe and Norfolk. Considerable damage by hail is reported in the vicinity.

Miser Had $25,000 in Cash.

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—During the thunderstorm Friday afternoon Christian Gonalt, alias Chris Minenkin, was killed by lightning while plowing in a field near Farmersville. It was discovered on searching his clothing that he had about $25,000 in cash. He had been living a miser's life. A daughter is supposed to be in Kansas or Nebraska.

Scaffold Falls With Pupils.

Ottawa, Ill., June 21.—A poorly constructed scaffolding broke down in front of the Baptist church Saturday afternoon and nearly 200 persons fell in a confused mass among broken timbers. They were pupils of country schools from all parts of LaSalle county. Fully a dozen persons were injured, but only three severely.

Celebrate Tippecanoe Day.

Lafayette, Ind., June 21.—The eighty-sixth anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe was celebrated Sunday under the auspices of the Tippecanoe Memorial association. The exercises were held at the site of the historic engagement between the forces under Gen. William Henry Harrison and the Indians under the prophet half-brother to the famous Chief Tecumseh. Several thousand visitors were present. The graves of the dead, both soldiers and Indians, were marked with floral wreaths.

A WAR OF EXTERMINATION
Work in the Sudan.

London, June 21.—It is believed here that an order recently issued by the government for all officers of the Egyptian army to return to their posts by July 1, together with the fact that the Egyptian army will soon be heavily recruited and vast stores and quantities of firearms have lately been sent to the Sudan, means that war will now begin in earnest and Great Britain will pursue a policy of extermination with regard to her enemies in that region. Information has been received at the foreign office that a great concentration of the Khalifa's forces has been taking place for many weeks, and that there are now nearly 20,000 head of camels quartered at Omdurman. There is every reason to believe that the Khalifa means to fight to the death, neither asking nor giving quarter, thus forcing upon Great Britain a warfare in which blood will flow like water. It is believed now that the large dervish army at Dunbar has withdrawn to join the main force at Omdurman, where, after harrying the British as much as possible during their advance from the Nile, the dervishes will make their last great stand. The British and Egyptian troops are now echeloned along the left bank of the Nile commanding all approaches to the river from the posts held by the Khalifa's troops. The advance upon Omdurman will begin about July 15 and every foot of the way is likely to be marked with blood.

CLOUDBURST IN TENNESSEE

Heavy Losses Inflicted on Railroads in the State.

Knoxville, Tenn., June 21.—Reports from upper east Tennessee, southwest Virginia and western North Carolina indicate severe storms during Saturday night and Sunday. A cloudburst just across the state line, near Bristol, did considerable damage and has delayed trains on the Southern road. The Washington and New Orleans vestibule train is being held at Bristol on account of a trestle washing away. Two hundred yards of track was also displaced. Throughout upper east Tennessee there has been a general storm, with hard winds, doing damage to growing corn. Beaver Creek, which carried the water of the cloudburst, is swollen like a river and several citizens have vacated their houses.

Fatal Riot Among Negroes.

Gadsden, Ala., June 21.—Henry Thomas, a negro excursionist from Birmingham, fired into a party of Gadsden negroes just as the train was leaving and wounded Will Garner, a cabman. Garner and his friends returned the fire and a general riot ensued. Thomas was shot in the back and neck and was stabbed twice in the shoulder and will die. Two other Birmingham negroes were shot and another was stabbed.

Appalling Condition in Cuba.

New York, June 21.—A dispatch to the World from Havana says that extermination on the island is an appalling, actual fact. The death rate is increasing. A prominent Spanish medical officer, who has full knowledge of the interior, says that should the war be prolonged fifteen months the western half of the island will be entirely depopulated.

Big Deficit in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 21.—Deputy Attorney General Elkin has given out a statement on the condition of the state finances in which he shows that there is a deficit of $3,500,000 in the state treasury. Mr. Elkin says the legislature has for several years appropriated more money than the net revenue received by the state, hence the present large deficiency.

Burial of Barney Barnato.

London, June 21.—The interment of the late Barney Barnato, the South African diamond king, took place Sunday in the Jewish cemetery in Willsington. The total loss is estimated at $160,000, fully insured.

Thomas gave his personal notes for about $300, but the teachers have not received their money. His total liabilities are estimated at about $20,000, with no security except for the post-office deficiency.

WOOLFORD HAS INSTRUCTIONS

Union with Great Britain Planned by President McKinley.

Washington, June 21.—President McKinley has determined to revive the abandoned treaty of general arbitration between the United States and Great Britain. He has already turned his attention to the subject and under the direction of Secretary Sherman the matter has progressed to the extent that a new treaty has been drafted to serve as the basis of negotiations expected to result in the submission of a convention to the Senate to replace that which was negotiated by Secretary Olney only to fail in the early hours of the present session.

POLICEMEN CALL MILITIA

Italians Cause Trouble at South Framingham, Mass.—Officer May Die.

South Framingham, Mass., June 21.—Four drunken Italian laborers took part in a savage fight in Waverley street early Sunday morning. Officers Robert Trace and David Bastion attempted to arrest one of the ring-leaders, but all the Italians set upon them. Officer Bastion was clubbed with a beer bottle and his skull was fractured.

Shortly before 3 o'clock the police scoured the militia alarm on the bells and steam whistles. The militiamen who responded accompanied the police force and a number of citizens and made a house-to-house canvass of the Italian colony. Three men were arrested, two of whom Officer Trace identified. They were taken to the police station and will be held to await the result of Officer Bastion's injuries. The hospital physicians say that his condition is hopeless.

Seventeen guerrillas were left on the field and many were wounded.

The first three days of the festival will be devoted to the vocal contests and concerts and the remaining three days to open-air diversions and the distribution of prizes.

NOTES PICKED UP IN LOCAL CHURCHES

REV. O. A. CURTISS PREACHES ON THE BIBLE.

Eloquent Sermon Is Heard at the Court Street M. E. Church—Rev. E. A. Read, of Pontiac, Ill., at the Baptist Church—Rev. S. P. Wilder Preaches—Other Sermons.

Dr. Curtis supplemented his sermon at Court Street M. E. church yesterday morning by the statement that he would give a talk on the doctrine of the bible, treating the subject much as he would before a class, but leaving out the technical phrases. His text was a verse from the first chapter of second Peter: "For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." The speaker said that three theories were entertained as to how these men were moved to write. The first and the one the least tenable, because it left out the human element, was the mechanical theory, where the writer was compelled to write mechanically the same as a child holding a pencil will write the name "Mother" when the hand is guided and controlled by the hand and will of the father.

The second the natural theory when the writer expressed his thoughts clearly and beautifully because he possessed a natural gift for this kind of writing a genius for his work, the same as Longfellow possessed a genius for poetry.

The objection to this theory is that it does not explain the divine side of the inspired word.

The Dynamic Theory.

The third theory and the only one that is capable of satisfactory explanation is known as the dynamic theory. The Holy Ghost that moved the holy men of God to write sustains the same relation to the Bible that the dynamo does to the electric current, in all its varied uses. It is the creative source of power and when the electric current is applied to the rugged character of the apostle Peter or the gentle character of the apostle John the truth shines through their personality in different colored hues but with equal brilliancy and power.

This theory recognizes both the human and divine side and is fundamental. These were inspired for a definite work and the criticism that is sometimes offered concerning them is unfair. Ministers sometimes compare the character of David to the character of such men as Bishop Simpson.

The speaker illustrated this point graphically by comparing the great engine number 919 of the Empire express, the engine that recently made a mile in thirty-two seconds, by the little hunch backed engine that climbed Mt. Washington. The former is a king in the commercial world, and doing grand work for civilization but it cannot climb the rugged mountains.

The Bible the Authority.

The bible is the authority of the christian church. Jesus Christ established this church by introducing the Lords supper, preaching and baptism. Wherever you find a christian church today you will find these three fundamental elements. When the Holy spirit inspires these outward emblems it becomes a living church. While the apostles lived they were authority on the workings and teachings of the great founder of the church. Could they have lived on through the centuries, down to the present time, the bible would never had been written, but when it dawned upon the minds of the early church that the apostles would soon be taken from them, and commenced a search for all their writings and letters concerning the Great Teacher and divine truth, and as a result the world enjoys, as it has for centuries, the bible, the inspired word. Some people admire the literature of the book, some the history, some the morality; but we miss the grandeur and sublimity of the bible, unless we recognize as the central figure the personality of the Lord Jesus Christ, the author and finisher of our faith.

Mrs. Christine Hawley acted as presenter, and will continue to fill this position during the summer. Her voice shows wonderful improvement.

The Baptist Church.

Rev. E. A. Read of Pontiac, Ill., preached two elegant sermons yesterday.

In the morning he took for his subject "Following Christ." His text was in Matthew 4:19, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men."

From this text he drew forth and enlarged upon the following points: First. Enlistment, or entering the service of the Master.

Second. Obedience to the Master's commands.

Third. Imitation of the Master's life and works.

Fourth. Consecration of all our powers to the Master's service.

What does this call mean to us? Do we hear and are we willing to heed the Master's call?

The missionary meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. was led by Miss Grace Tennant.

Rev. Mr. Reed took for his evening text Acts 5:38-9. Subject, "The Stability of God's Truth." Gamaliel was inspired to utter this great truth. He was about the only sane man in that meeting. Religious frenzy had taken possession of the people. Fads are not killed by criticism, but augmented. Gamaliel's advice is good today. Robert Ingersoll would not be as popular if the ministers had heeded this advice and let him alone. Error cannot live if you let it alone and truth will because of its inherent force live and grow. The more you oppose an error, the longer it will thrive. God's laws are fixed. Error must die and truth must live.

Whatever man can make, man can destroy but what God makes may live forever. Churches and revivals and philosophy and creeds made by man will pass away but God only can create that which will last forever. There are great principles of liberty and love and loyalty that God has organized and they will last forever. If the bible is man made, it will pass away but if it is of God it will stand. Persecution will not accomplish anything. Let the crises work upon the world, they will only make its true worth shine the brighter. That church which is not built upon God's plan, that salvation which is not founded upon Christ will pass away.

Why should we be satisfied with something that will fail? why not take and use that which will last forever.

If things that have not the truth of God in them must fall, is it not time that we rid ourselves of them all and build upon the eternal truths of God. The force of gravitation holds on in spite of all of man's efforts, so the will of God holds on its working with men. Truth and love and faith will triumph.

To leave God out of our life means failure, to have God in our life means success whatever may be the outward surroundings.

Why not take Christ's way of living as our way and be on the winning side.

Christ Church.

Yesterday, the first Sunday after Trinity, services were held as usual at Christ church. In the evening the evening the rector preached from the text "He Must Increase, but I Must Decrease."

He dwelt on the peculiarities in the life of John the Baptist, and showed how his greatness consisted in preparing the way for Christ whose forerunner he was, and in contributing to Christ's glory rather than his own, his constant thought was that "He Must Increase, but I Must Decrease." His life had been one of great promise from his birth, and he had been looked upon as the great prophet and some had asked if he were the Christ, but he was faithful to the duty that was plainly his, to point out the way of Christ and to prepare people for His coming.

His greatness consisted not in earthly glory, but in his faithfulness to duty. He found it laid out before him and he met it fully.

The great fault of manhood today is that instead of doing our duty in that state of life in which he has pleased God to call us, we ask ourselves "how much honor and glory and earthly gain we get out of it."

Instead, we should aim to do our God-given task without regard to earthly honor or glory. Great men are called by God when he has special work to do. He called John the Baptist for the work which he so faithfully fulfilled, and in this country's hour of need, during the rebellion, God raised up a Lincoln and a Grant. When great things are to be done great men are raised up to do them and the power to accomplish their task, is possible for them through the faithfulness to duty of the many under them. All great deeds are accomplished through the faithfulness to duty of the masses. We all hope that we may be great. The Baptist's greatness consisted in the faithful performance of his duty, which was to increase the glory of the One greater than he.

Thus while we may not be able to accomplish mighty deeds and attain worldly glory yet we can be great in the eyes of the master, as was St. John by similar faithfulness to the duty assigned to us by Him.

The new prayer desk presented to church by the Sunday school, was used for the first time yesterday.

It is expected that the bishop will visit the church in the near future, to bless the new altar.

The Congregational Church.

Rev. S. P. Wilder occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church yesterday morning, and spoke on the relation between theory and fact in religion. He pointed out that the struggles and persecutions of religious history had revolved not around the facts of religion but the theories and speculative opinions of men. The facts in all departments of thought and life remain always the same, but men's opinions and theories change. Theories may often be useful in the pushing of thought out into the unknown field, but it is upon the substantial facts of experience that life rests. The use of inductive reasoning in modern thought has resulted in a wider liberty being accorded to thinkers. There is less struggle and contention over theories and a deeper and more earnest search for the facts. Mr. Wilder made a strong plea for a fearless adherence to the facts which scholarship discloses with reference to the bible. We may let mediaeval speculations go and build our religious faith and work upon the indisputable facts of christian revelation and experience. In the evening the pastor spoke on "Ridicule in Religious Things."

The Stomach Cannot Be Frightened

With greater trash than a violent drastic purgative. True, such a medicine relieves constipation for the time, but at the expense of great injury to the intestinal canal, which it both inflames and weakens, thus unfitting it for the performance of its proper functions. Widely different is the action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a tonic aperient which produces effects prompt, indeed, but never violent and convulsing. The purity of its botanical ingredients, its unobjectionable flavor, its gentle influence upon the mind, and the thoroughness of its remedial action in cases of constipation, liver complaint and dyspepsia, combine to render it a most desirable family specific. It increases both physical vigor and substance, tranquillizes and invigorates the nervous system, and gives an unwonted relish for the food. A wineglass three times daily is about the average dose.

Evansville Young Woman Dead

Miss Mabel Owen Succumbs To Consumption—Some Other News.

Evansville, Wis., June 21, 1897—Miss Mabel Adelaide Owen, only child of Landlord and Mrs. J. M. Owen, of the Commercial hotel, died at her home in this city, at 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 20, 1897, of consumption. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock, at the M. E. church.

Miss Owen was a young lady beloved by all whom she ever met. She graduated from the High school in this city, June 9, 1893. Last September she commenced attending the Normal school at Whitewater, but was taken with the la grippe, and was obliged to return home in December. Since that time she has been rapidly failing. She will be buried on her 23rd birthday. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Owen have the sympathy of the whole community in this their hour of bereavement. About twenty expect to go from here on the Christian Endeavor excursion to California. Those attending the M. W. of A. picnic at Brodhead Friday report a good crowd and good time. Last Saturday afternoon about forty relatives of Mrs. Chas. Sperry, Sr., of West Point, gave her a pleasant surprise, it being the occasion of her seventy-second birthday. She went to spend the day with her sister, Mrs. Josiah Sperry and upon her return home found that the guests had taken complete possession of her home. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in the good old fashioned way; refreshments were served at five o'clock. A few relatives from this city were in attendance. The affair was arranged by her daughter, Miss Etta Sperry. The guests on their departure wished her many more happy birthdays and left tokens of remembrance.

RETAILERS TALK WITH JOBBERS

Local Merchants Get Valuable Ideas as to Increasing Their Business

To make a success of advertising the local merchant must be thoroughly posted in the art of advertising. He must know the people he wants to reach, know their wants, know just what mediums will most influence them, and what arguments will convince them that it is his goods that will best satisfy their desires. Hearty cooperation with jobbers and manufacturers will tend greatly toward helping the retail dealer attain this result. Nearly every manufacturer and jobber is supplied with plenty of advertising information of a useful character. It is at the disposal of every retailer. Why not be one of those to use it? Why not outline your policy to the concern from whom you make your largest purchases and ask their help? The answers you will receive cannot fail to be beneficial.—The Shoe Budget.

REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS.

The New Law Which Goes Into Effect On July 1.

One of the important laws enacted by the last legislature is chapter 292, which is entitled, "an act to provide for a more correct record of births and deaths." The bill was introduced by Senator Julius J. Rohr, of Milwaukee, and was approved by the state board of health. It makes several radical changes in the old law, and it has resulted in many inquiries from registers of deeds. The old law required the physicians or midwife to report births to the register of deeds. In the first section of the new law it is provided that "it shall be the duty of parents and of every householder to give notice of any child birth occurring in said household within thirty days after the birth thereof to the health officer of the board of health existing in the city, village or town in which the birth occurs, and in case no health officer exists in such city, village or town the said notice shall be given to the city or town clerk."

The notices are to be made on blanks furnished by the secretary of state through the register of deeds of each county. These blanks have been printed and will be sent out next week. The third section of the law provides that "it shall be the duty of the health officer of every board of health in this state, or in places where no board of health exists the city or town clerk, or assessor, to collect all of the births which occur in the city, town or village in which he is an officer, and at the end of each month to certify all such notices of births as he may have received or collected, and forward the same to the register of deeds of the county in which such births occur."

Another important provision of the law is contained in section 4, which provides that no one shall bury or remove a body until he has received a permit to do so from the local health officer or town clerk, with proper certifications as to cause of death, etc. The law takes effect July 1, and violation of it is to be punished by a fine of from $10 to $50 or of from thirty to sixty days.

FAMILIAR NAMES.

Sometimes Are Worth Many Dollars.

Among manufacturers, the value of a trademark for their products is coming to be well understood. When people get in the way of using an article which proves meritorious and which they buy and buy again, they soon come to know that article by some distinctive name or in connection with some catchy line.

Some boys stood watching a painter penciling with his brush on a grocer's plate glass window the word "Postum" then was quickly painted the round red disk, and one of the boys said to the other, "It makes red blood; that is the health coffee that boys can drink."

There was no question about Postum and its trademark being familiar to him. When an article has become so popular that its name is truly a household word and becomes a part of every one's vocabulary, even to that of the children, the trademark or name has become a valuable franchise, which is usually protected from confiscation by being registered in the Patent office, and some of these trademarks are valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, as they protect large business interests from unscrupulous persons or firms who would pirate the name if not restrained by the strong arm of the law.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine original article because he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal Food Coffee is ordered, that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

DELANOV FIGHTS CITY AIRS

Say Trustees and Village Clerk Did Not Act Accordingly to Law.

The Board of Trustees and clerk of the village of Delanov are made defendants in an action brought by a taxpayer on the ground that the president and board on May 21 last adopted a resolution declaring Delanov to be a city of the fourth class, the board at that time representing that it was adopted pursuant to a law of 1897. The complaint sets forth that the board had no authority for construing the law as mandatory rather than permissive; that in pursuance of this resolution the village clerk published a notice of an election for city officers to be held June 15, and also published a notice to the effect that by section 96 of chapter 287 of the laws of 1897 the village had become a city without the action or consent of the people, and that such election was compulsory by law; also that no petition of the taxpayers concerning the incorporation of the village as a city under the general city charter law was ever presented to the board as is required, nor was any election upon the question of incorporation was ever held; and that the action of the board was without warrant of law.

The petition asks that the president and the board be enjoined from canvassing the returns of a pretended election for city officers held June 15 and from certifying the result of the election, or filing them with the village clerk.

THE NEW ALTAR IS IN PLACE.

Handsome Gift of the Congregation In Use at Christ Church.

An exceedingly handsome and massive altar and reredos, the gift of the congregation, has been erected in the church of Christ church. Both the altar and reredos have been carved out of marble from the quarries of Vermont, being most carefully selected so as to get the best effects of color and grain in this beautiful stone.

The altar is six feet wide by three feet three inches high. It is supported by four columns, which give it a most massive and yet graceful appearance. In the three panels formed between the columns are carved to the right and left, the A. and W. and in the center panel I. H. S. The reredos rises above the altar six feet and one-half inches, and on the front of this is carved the Tri-angulus.

The reredos rises six feet and six inches above the reredos, making a total height of the whole work ten feet and six inches. The general design of the altar is carried out in the reredos, which is also divided into three panels and supported by eight small columns.

The pediment is cut up into three spires, the outer ones ending in a carved finial, while the center is finished by a plain Latin cross. Under the pediment are carved conventional designs of vines and grapes.

The whole work is very rich and massive and most churchly in appearance, and the congregation is to be congratulated in having such a noble accessory to worship.

The work was designed and erected by Spaulding & Co., of Chicago, who have spared no pains to make this work creditable to their high reputation.

Old age

comes early to the clothes that are dragged up and down over the wash-board. It's ruinous. Nothing else uses them up so thoroughly and so quickly.

This wear and tear, that tells so on your pocket, ought to be stopped. Get some Pearl-line—use it just as directed—no soap with it—and see how much longer the clothes last, and how much easier and quicker the work is. Pearl-line saves the rubbing.

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearl-line." IT'S FALSE—Pearl-line is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearl-line, be honest—send it back.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the nineteenth century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in laundry dyeing. It makes rinsing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

$800,000 FOR GOOD ROADS.

It would have been more to the purpose had the Wisconsin legislature devoted more energy to good roads and less to railroad pass debates. Bad roads take dollars out of every farmer's pocket week in and week out, the year around. The Massachusetts legislature recognized this fact, and appropriated $800,000 for experimental road construction. With the impetus which it will necessarily derive from that enactment, the movement for better highways is bound to give Massachusetts a system of public roads equal to, if not superior to, those of any other state in the union. The generous example of the Bay State in voting so large a sum for this important work, coming at a time when other states are haggling over niggardly appropriations for the same purpose, is positively refreshing.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 21.—[Special to Byrd & Law, Commission Co.]—The board of trade today has been voting on a proposition, the effect of which would be to deprive the board of store houses for regular delivery. It is in the nature of a protest and in opposition to the legislation which was procured at Springfield a short time ago, and many members of the board are voting for it on that theory, and those who do so are honest in their convictions of the righteousness of the movement. The larger percentage of the board will probably vote against the proposition as a matter of self preservation, for there is no question about it that the adoption of the amendment would bring business to a standstill for several months, and by that time the speculative world might discover that speculation in grain so far as rank outsiders are concerned is a luxury with which they can dispense and from which they might become weakened. When I speak of business, I have reference to the speculative business, which is the only real business on the board of trade, as the warehouse men and the other pawnbrokers and the entire receiving interest base all their operations and secure themselves against loss in the speculative pit. Without the speculative there would be no excuse for the existence of the board of trade.

Pending the outcome of this I care to say nothing about the wheat market or any other market.

ROBERT LINDBLOM.

Amendment Is Defeated.

Chicago, June 21.—3 p. m.—[Special] The amendment is defeated, and I hope it will be the last amendment we have to vote on for several years. If the directors would just permit us to pursue the even tenor of our way without new complications, we would probably manage to make a living. Had part of the amendment passed, I should have been compelled to quit my private wire business at once.

The market looks weak to me. It looks like a break of three or four cents a bushel. ROBERT LINDBLOM.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Otto G. Bleedorn.

City Engineer Otto G. Bleedorn died at his home at the corner of Milton and Benton avenues, Saturday evening, aged thirty-six years. Mr. Bleedorn had been ill since last November, when he was taken with an attack of the grip. The disease did not yield to treatment, and a complication of diseases followed, causing his death. He was confined to his bed, however, only for two days, and not until Friday did his condition become critical. Mr. Bleedorn had resided in Janesville since he was three years of age, coming here from McGregor, Iowa. He graduated from the Janesville High school with the class of 1880, and afterward took the law and engineering course at the University of Valparaiso, Ind., graduating in 1884. He had served as city engineer and county surveyor for many years, and had filled these important duties to the complete satisfaction of all. He was a thorough master of his calling, and was an engineer of marked ability. Personally he was all that a man should be, and his death will be generally regretted. Besides a mother he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Louis Zankel of Chicago, and Miss Bertha Bleedorn, of Manitowoc, Wis.

Funeral arrangements are not complete, but announcements will be made tomorrow.

Mrs. Abbie Ann Corwin.

Mrs. Abbie Ann Corwin, widow of Samuel B. Corwin, died at her home, 152 Mineral Point avenue, Saturday evening, at 9:30 o'clock, aged seventy-eight years. Some days ago Mrs. Corwin suffered a stroke of apoplexy, which was the real cause of her death, although she had also been afflicted with dropsy. She was well known in this city, having lived here for many years. She was a member of the Baptist church, and was held in the highest esteem by all. Her husband died in 1884. She leaves a family of five children: Frank and Emma Corwin of this city; Mrs. E. J. Adams, Beloit; Mrs. O. A. Benedict of Hackensack, New Jersey, and J. B. Corwin of San Francisco.

The funeral will be held from the house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All wishing to review the remains may do so from 11 till 12 o'clock tomorrow.

Funeral of P. W. Fleming.

All that was mortal of the late P. W. Fleming was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Mount Olivet cemetery. Services were held from the North Main street dwelling at 2:30 o'clock and from St. Mary's church at 3 o'clock, the Rev. R. J. Roche officiating. The A. O. H. societies No. 1 and 3 attended in a body and marched in full uniform. At the church every seat was occupied, and handsome floral offerings were to be seen, the pieces including two handsome pillows. The pall bearers were R. J. Dunn, John Heffernan, John Gleason, James Riley, James Sheridan, and John J. Connelly.

PROF. C. H. KING GIVES FACTS

Tells of a Janesville Man's Inventions After Leaving College.

Prof. C. H. King of the state university releases some interesting facts about ex-students of the university. One of those spoken of is a young man named Stevenson, who was formerly a blacksmith at Janesville. He engaged in experimenting on the manufacture of cane sugar after graduation and realized a large fortune therefrom. Since that he invented a method of packing cotton by running it between heavy rolls and then rolling the sheets up like carpeting. In this way a great saving in every respect is made over the old method and the whole business of preparing cotton for shipment is sure to be revolutionized.

THEY CAMP OUT IN A WAGON

CAME INTO COURT TO BE ARRESTED

J. SCHULTZ DRIVES HERE FROM LIMA TOWNSHIP.

Learned Through The Gazette That a Warrant Was Out For Him, and Realizing That the Statement Was "New and True," Proceeded to Save the County Some Money.

"When you see it in The Gazette it is new and true."

The people of Rock county realize this fact and act accordingly. Some days ago The Gazette announced the fact that a warrant had been issued for J. Schultz, of Lima, on the charge of selling milk that did not come up to the legal standard at a Milton factory.

The warrant was given to Under-sheriff Wallace Cochrane, but owing to a rush of business he had not yet served it.

On Saturday morning The Weekly Gazette went out into the county through the postoffice, and soon every man, woman and child in Lima township knew that a warrant was out for Schultz. Mr. Schultz learned of the fact for the first time, and was much surprised. He hitched up his team this morning and came to Janesville. On reaching this city he went to the municipal court to be arrested. Under-sheriff Cochrane then read the warrant and Schultz was arraigned. He pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned until June 29.

The complaint was made by W. W. Chadwick, deputy dairy and food commissioner.

Dix, and of the sophomores to Mr. Lyman.

Following this President Eaton announced the awarding of special college prizes as follows:

NEW LIGHTING CO. TO LOCATE HERE

MAY BUY BOWER CITY COMPANY'S FRANCHISE.

Charles M. Loring, Representing the Illinois Electric Construction Company, Visits Janesville For the Purpose of Looking Over the Ground and was Pleased With the Prospect.

A new electric lighting plant is likely to be put in this city, with the idea of catering to all branches of the business.

Charles T. Loring, representing the Illinois Electric Construction company spent Sunday in the city, and made an investigation, leaving at noon today. Mr. Loring, it is said, holds an option on the franchise on the Bower City Light and Power company, and expressed himself very much pleased with the outlook for business in this city. That the deal with the Bower City company will be closed is said to be practically settled, and a plant of complete construction is likely to be put in.

Mr. Loring visited the city hall today, and investigated the records relating to the franchise on which he holds an option, and stated in the hearing of people present that he intended to locate here.

Mr. Loring is interested in several other electrical enterprises and is now in control of two plants near Chicago.

THE RALLY WAS A SUCCESS

Three Townships Were Represented at the Shopiere Gathering.

The Sunday school rally at Shopiere yesterday, was represented largely from three townships, and the whole day was full of interest. Delegates from Fulton, Janesville and Clinton brought good tidings of the good work in their respective localities. Arthur Whitney's model class was exceptionally interesting. How a young man, blind, can obtain so much bible knowledge and impart it so readily, is a marvel. The addresses and papers read were listened to with much satisfaction, and the churches and schools of Shopiere, with one voice said "do come again."

Many of the mission schools celebrated yesterday as children's day, not being able to do so the Sunday previous.

CHILDREN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Little Ones Had a Close Call at Frank Urburn's Home.

When Frank Urburn's house in the town of Bradford burned, the children, who were alone when the fire started, all got out safely, although a little one, who in fright crawled under the bed upstairs, was barely rescued in time by one of the older ones.

Thirty or forty men and boys arrived at the scene too late to save the household goods. An old dog with a litter of pups in the woodshed refused to forsake them, and all perished. One of the little girls had her foot fearfully burned by stepping on a chain that someone had pulled out of the live coals. When Urburn returned from his fishing excursion at sundown, he found only ashes marked the spot where his home had stood and his motherless children wondering where they would sleep that night. Urburn had made application for insurance a day or two before the fire, making a partial payment or the premium, but the policy had not been written. The origin of the fire is thought to be spontaneous combustion.

For several months Mr. Slater has been working on the invention, and now he thinks it has reached the height of perfection. Shoe manufacturers are anxiously enquiring about it, and it is the intention to exhibit it at the Paris exposition. MAY RUN THE CARS TO UP RIVER PARK

G. W. BLABON SAID TO BE CONSIDERING A PLAN.

Trip Up the Rock on the Launch Lorna Made This Afternoon. For the Purpose, It Is Said, of Looking Into the Matter and Inspecting the Pleasure Resorts.

Shall the street car line be extended to the up river resorts?

That is a question that George W. Blabon is said to be debating.

That Mr. Blabon's visit here is for the purpose of considering improvements for the betterment of the road, there is little doubt and in the line of improvement, extensions are the most favored it is said.

This afternoon Mr. Blabon in company with F. C. Cook, Capt. Pliny Norcross, Capt. W. T. VanVirk, V. P. Richardson, O. W. Bemis and W. E. Evenson made a trip up the river in the naphtha launch Lorna for the purpose of looking over the ground.

Supt. Cummins has favored such a plan for some time. His idea was to establish a new park to be controlled by the street car company, and it is said that this plan would have been carried out last summer if the power house had not been destroyed by fire.

MAN STOLE ICE COLD BEER.

Woman Saw Him Break Into the Conrad Store to Get a Key.

While a man was effecting an entrance into the large Conrad cold storage warehouse near the corner of Court and Main streets at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Louise Hoffman who resides over Harvey's restaurant, watched his movements. Consequently the man who did the job is known to the police. He first gained an entrance into the cellar of Conrad's meat market, then taking the key to the cold storage warehouse, unlocked the doors and brought forth twenty quart bottles of beer, the property of the Pabst Brewing company of Milwaukee. The man was drunk when the crime was committed.

THE COMMITTEE IS SATISFIED

The Memorial Day Managers Make a Statement Regarding Criticism.

Editor Gazette.—The Recorder of June 19th contained the treasurer's report for Memorial day. There were also some comments as to the amount raised by the citizens committee and touching some of the expenses. Memorial day this year was the most successful of any of its predecessors and the committee on management feel justified in stating that the receipts and expenditures were entirely satisfactory to them. The party responsible for the slight criticism had no authority from the committee in charge. Yours truly, J. THORNGOOD, Chairman.

A KINDERGARTEN EXPERT.

The Lady Who Has Been Re-elected President of the National Association.

Miss Lucy Wheelock, the well known kindergarten of Boston, has been honored by a re-election to the position of president of the National Kindergarten association, which has been holding its annual session in St. Louis.

This distinction has been won by years of active service in the kindergarten field and is merited by the success which she has achieved.

Miss Wheelock, although born in Vermont, has been identified with educational interests in Boston ever since she graduated from the Chauncy Hall school, where her own education was acquired, and where, when a young girl, she gave evidences of possessing unusual literary ability.

Toward the close of her course she began to feel an interest in the teaching of little children by kindergarten methods. She took a course of instruction to prepare herself for this work and received her diploma from Miss Elizabeth Peabody.

A kindergarten had just been established in connection with Chauncy Hall school, and she was placed in charge, a position which she has held now for about 15 years, making herself most widely known of late years as a teacher of training classes, in which line she has few superiors.

Young girls who are preparing for kindergarten work come from all parts of the country to enjoy the privileges of her instruction.

When Chauncy Hall was consolidated with Berkeley Hall last year, arrangements were made whereby Miss Wheelock's connection with the school was to be kept up. A house was purchased at 254 Dartmouth street especially for the training school, and most of her work is done there.

In addition to her regular teaching, Miss Wheelock is well known as a lecturer and writer. She has contributed largely to educational journals and religious periodicals. She has also translated a number of stories for children from the German.

Her love for children led her to give considerable time and attention to Sunday school work, and she is well known among Sunday school workers both by her writings and lectures.

Miss Wheelock's philosophy of the kindergarten is: "It offers itself as the child's rightful kingdom, where he may be trained to look upon the 'plain, suffering face of nature' and to enjoy the good gifts of the Creator, which are presented to him in their type forms through the kindergarten gifts."

"The three hours spent in genuine child garden come as a timely salvation to the little one whose eyes are wearied and whose nerves are overstrained by the unmeaning toys and injudicious attention lavished upon him at home."

"In this garden of children he lives a simple, happy life of growth. He attains possession of himself and of his powers by constant doing and so learns to walk in the way of peace."—Boston Globe.

Solid Black Lace Lingerie. Solid black lace lingerie is the very latest and most surprising of all conceptions in this line. Of course it comes from Paris, the place where all chic ideas originate, and it is really very dainty and pretty. A petticoat of the new fancy is quite a dream in black. The foundation is of some light, filmy black stuff, upon which are placed, one above the other, the tiniest ruffles of the most airy black lace, wrought in fairy designs. The entire skirt is literally as light as a feather.

Black satin corsets, embroidered in tiny dresden buds, are worn with the black underwear, of course, and the light, black undervests of raw and spun silk and the beautifully embroidered black silk stockings go to complete an extremely stylish and comfortable suit.

It is all quite expensive, but in Paris it is extremely popular and is now coming across the water. The spun silk "shades" are as light and dainty as possible and can almost be put in a matchbox. What fad will next seize upon milady?—New York Tribune.

A Brilliant Woman.

Mrs. Donald McLean, the regent of the New York city chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is described as a brilliant woman, of fine executive ability, and under her regime the Daughters of the American Revolution are constantly winning new honors. It is said that she suggested the letter to Senator George F. Edmunds on the Venezuelan arbitration question which called forth his answer, thus placing the Daughters of the American Revolution on record as the first organization of women to secure official recognition in a matter of international arbitration. To her are due the origin and development of the idea of founding a chair of colonial and Revolutionary history at Barnard college. She comes of a long line of Revolutionary stock and is the daughter of the late Judge John Ritchie, who also served in our national congress. She was born in Frederick, Md., in a house directly opposite Barbara Frietchie's home.—Woman's Journal.

Deliberate Action Necessary.

He had finished reading aloud an interview with himself, in which he declared that he did not desire any office of any kind.

"That's splendid," his wife commented. "If I were you I wouldn't lose a minute. I'd send it around to the newspaper office right away!"

"Send it right away!" he echoed, indignantly. "What in the world are you thinking of? Of course, it's a good idea to have it all in shape; but how do we know yet that the president isn't going to offer me an appointment?"—Washington Star.

A Curt Customer.
"I fear," said the barber, finishing his 20-minute monologue with an unrequited plea in behalf of his infallible hair restorative, "I fear, sir (yanking the apron from under the chin of his baldheaded customer), that your hair will never come in again."

The released victim glanced at himself in the glass, banged his hat on his head, and, hastily striding to the door, exclaimed: "Neither will I!"—Boston Courier.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 34, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater; it will cost nothing for his description and method.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

A RAW RECRUIT.

BY WILL M. CLEMENS.

(Copyright, 1897, by Will M. Clemens.)

In Sergeant Norton's picket squad was one of the raw ones, a new recruit. Oberholtz was his name, and he looked it. Most young Germans are brave in the face of danger, and John Oberholtz was one of the majority.

The night was as uncertain in a weather way as were the English words of Oberholtz, and as Fred Norton scurried along his picket line the cottonwood trees looked to him like a file of black giants. It was a shadowy, murky, somber night, this June evening, 1864, in the country round about Spotsylvania Court House.

Sergeant Norton stopped short in his lone march and put his hand to his ear. A strange noise came from a ravine not far away where John Oberholtz was on duty. Less than two miles to the south were the Confederate lines, and the young sergeant was fearful lest the gray sharpshooters would reduce the number of his picket squad. He ran toward the ravine as fast as the darkness would permit him and came rather unexpectedly upon the young German standing motionless upon a knoll, his gun pointed at some bushes a few feet distant.

The hand of Oberholtz was upon the trigger of his gun, and his usually red face was ashen white. He was in the act of firing when the sergeant called him.

"Oberholtz, what is the trouble?" questioned Norton sternly.

"Der was a rebel in der bushes," cried the German, his voice trembling with excitement.

"Put down your gun," whispered the sergeant as he came alongside the new recruit. "Don't shoot. If there is only one, we can capture him."

The German obeyed and brought his gun to the ground.

Norton stepped forward a pace or two, having discerned a face and form in the underbrush. He drew his revolver and advanced quickly.

"Surrender, or I'll shoot!" he demanded very earnestly.

Scarcely had he said the words than he quickly put his revolver back in his belt and uttered a gasp of surprise.

The frightened face of a young woman confronted him.

He saw her stagger as if about to fall, and, reaching forward, caught her by the arm. She vainly tried to speak to him and laid a trembling hand upon the arm of the sergeant.

"You had a narrow escape, miss," Norton said to her as the German recruit advanced to his side.

She looked at Oberholtz in alarm and again endeavored to speak, but failed utterly. She nodded her head as if to indicate an affirmative reply.

With his cap Norton fanned her pretty face while her body lay limp upon his arm. The night wind caused her brown hair to brush his cheek, and when her blue eyes looked, full of an unknown fear, into his own he felt a thrill of tender sympathy within.

"I feel so faint and so tired!" she whispered, at last recovering her voice.

"No wonder, young lady," said Norton gallantly, and, pointing to Oberholtz, he added: "He might have shot you. Luckily I came along just as I did."

"I thank you, sir, so much," she replied, standing erect and by her movement declining the support of the soldier.

She continued rather painfully, "Perhaps I did wrong in coming, but we were starving and—"

Her voice faltered.

"Who? Where?" asked Norton anxiously, eager for information.

"Over yonder," she replied faintly, "father and I. We live half a mile from here between the lines of the two armies. My father is a Confederate officer. Two days ago some of the Yankee soldiers came along and took everything we had in the house, and since then—"

She uttered a little sympathetic cough and went on.

"We have absolutely nothing to eat. My poor father took ill while at home on a furlough and is now a helpless invalid. I could not leave him long enough to go to the rebel camp, and the houses of our neighbors are deserted. I ventured up here to see if I couldn't get just enough food for father's supper. He is so weak!" And, laying her trembling hand upon Norton's arm, she pleaded, "Can't you give us just a little food, sir?"

There was a tear in the eye of the young sergeant as he bade her accompany him to the brigadier's quarters. She meekly followed him, leaving Oberholtz to resume his picket duty. Norton took her arm and helped her over the rough places along the way, meanwhile learning her name and other facts about herself and her family.

To the brigadier's tent they went together, and Norton introduced her as "Edith Madden, aged 17, the daughter of a Confederate."

He told the girl's story in as few words as possible, the narrative receiving the utmost attention from the curtly old brigadier. He was a man of little speech, this brigadier, and when Norton had finished he put his head on one side and looked critically at the girl and then at the sergeant. Then he seized pen and paper and wrote a few lines hurriedly.

"Here, orderly!" he shouted in his gruff voice. "Take this to the commissary."

Turning to Norton, he added: "Sergeant, follow the orderly. Put the provisions in a wagon. Load her up with crackers and coffee and sugar and such stuff."

"Yes, sir," replied Norton, saluting his superior. He started to leave the tent with the young woman at his side.

"And, sergeant!" added the gruff voice.

"Yes, sir."

"Put enough in that wagon to last 'em for six months."

"Yes, sir."

"And, sergeant, take a file of men and accompany the wagon and this girl to her father's house."

"Yes, sir." And Norton and the girl stepped out into the night.

In the course of an hour a wagon creaking under its heavy load passed down the ravine where Oberholtz paced to and fro with his gun, and six soldiers marched upon either side of the wagon. Norton and his companion, the daughter of the enemy, brought up in the rear.

It was moonlight when the soldiers and the wagon returned, two hours later. Something delayed the young sergeant, for it was fully an hour later when he came back to camp. There was a queer sort of smile upon his face and a strange happiness in his breast. The following night Norton passed the guard, and for several hours he lingered in the country over near the enemy. He was reconnoitering, so he told the guard when he returned and gave the countersign.

Another night and still another he went outside the lines, and one evening a week later he went again, this time taking with him two companions, Oberholtz, the new recruit, and a white haired old soldier in a fugitive cap.

As they walked along Norton chatted gleefully with the elderly man.

"I thought I'd bring Oberholtz along for luck. Ever since he came near killing her he worships the very ground she walks on. I feel grateful to him any way. If he had not been a raw recruit and a German, this thing could never have happened."

The three men wearing the blue entered an old house in the woods. An old man sitting in a rocking chair gave them kindly greeting.

Sergeant Fred Norton took the hand of pretty Edith Madden, and they stood together in the center of the room. The white haired soldier, Chaplain Whitaker, took from his pocket a leather covered volume, and there in the Virginia woods, in the quiet of the summer night, Fred and Edith were made man and wife.

The Gray and the Blue.

On the battlefield at Richmond, Ky., in 1862 a Confederate and Federal soldier were lying some distance apart. Both were prostrate from severe wounds. "I am dying for water," the boy in blue cried out in despair.

"I have water in my canteen to which you are welcome," said the one in gray.

"I couldn't move to save my life," groaned the wounded Federal. The Confederate lifted his head and, looking over at his wounded foe, called out in compassion, "Hold on a little longer, Yank, and I'll come to you!"

By digging his hands into the ground the heroic southerner dragged himself to the side of the Federal, groaning every time he moved. After the sufferer had drunk eagerly the two clasped hands in token of buried hatred. The Confederate had overexerted himself and brought on a hemorrhage, from which he died in a short time. The boy in blue kissed again and again the cold hand that had brought him relief, when he was taken away to the hospital, where he died next day.

Two Leading Southern Types.

The two leading types of southern population are plainly the Virginian and the South Carolinian of the tide-water. For this fact there are both historical and physiographic reasons. Virginia was the first and South Carolina the second southern colony to be settled by well to do Englishmen who desired to found permanent homes. The introduction of slavery and its application to staple crops speedily gave an aristocratic tone to society in both provinces, but between them, in North Carolina, and to the south of them, in Georgia, there were fewer wealthy settlers and no staple crops to speak of, so that from the first society in these provinces was more or less democratic in spite of slavery. Before, however, the gentry of the coast could expand and occupy the country lying between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghenies and beyond the latter range of mountains a very different sort of people had moved in and taken possession. Among these people, owing to their habits and the nature of their soil, slavery could take no strong hold; hence they remained democratic and distinct from their tidewater neighbors.

as indeed they are to this day.—W. P. Trent in Atlantic.

Arithmetic.

The science of arithmetic is attributed by some to the Egyptians, by others to the Chaldeans and by others again to the Chinese. From an early date, probably 1,000 years before Christ, the swanage, or abacus, was in use in China for performing arithmetical computations. The Chinese also use their fingers for the same purpose, every joint of each finger having a different arithmetical value. Arithmetic was brought into Greece from Egypt by Thales 300 years B. C. One of the oldest known treatises upon arithmetic is by Euclid, in the third century before Christ. The first arithmetic printed in England was in 1522, by Tonstall, bishop of Durham. Until the American Revolution most of the arithmetics used in the colonies were brought from England. One of the earliest American arithmetics was a work called "Arithmetic—Vulgar and Decimal," published at Boston in 1724.

The Stockade.

The earliest known system of fortification was the stockade. It has been employed, at one time or another, by all nations, is still in use in Turkey, and in the Indo-Chinese peninsula there is no other defensive work known. In the early settlement of this country the stockade was extensively employed, both by the Indians and the whites, when a position was to be defended.

In June 1884, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave and now I consider that I am entirely cured. THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1631—Captain John Smith, famous in Virginia settlement, died in London; born 1579. Captain Smith's romantic adventures were not confined to the Pocahontas episode. In early life he won a patent of nobility in wars against the Turk, was captured in battle and sent as a slave to Constantinople, won the affection of his mistress, was maltreated by her brother, a pasha, whom Smith killed, then fled the country dressed in the dead man's clothes. On arriving in America Smith was excluded from the councils by jealousy, but finally triumphed and became the real head of the Virginia colony. While out on a foraging excursion gathering Indian maize to keep the colonists from starving he was captured by the Indians and his life saved by Pocahontas. A third time he fell a captive to the French while on his way to found a colony in New England, but escaped and passed the remainder of his life in retirement.

1788—New Hampshire ratified the United States constitution, the ninth state, thus insuring its adoption.

1819—Jacques Offenbach, noted musical composer, born in Cologne of German-Jewish parents; died 1880.

1862—Friedrich Froebel, originator of the kindergarten system, died; born 1782.

1893—Senator Leland Stanford, the California capitalist, died at Palo Alto, Cal.; born 1824.

1895—The German emperor laid the cornerstone of the Kaiser Wilhelm (Kiel) canal.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Trouble, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble. Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectively restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living. We cut, trim and try on here. Our cutter has been with us long enough to prove that he is a first-class, up-to-date stylish workman. Ours is a union shop. We make this statement to offset the impression that some have that we are opposed to unions. You will get full value every time you deal with
